Results of Operations

(based on information as of September 30, 2009)

The Fund's net assets increased by 29.8% during the period to $44.5 million. This change was comprised primarily of gains of $9.2 million from investment operations and an increase of $1.0 million due to net proceeds from the issuance of the Fund's securities. Average net assets of the Fund for the period were $39.5 million (2008 – $50.3 million), a decrease of 21.4% compared to the six-month period ended September 30, 2008. Average net assets influence revenue earned and expenses incurred by the Fund during the period. The Fund's performance is discussed below. Performance will vary by series largely due to the extent that fees and expenses may differ between series. See Series Information later in this report.

The Fund slightly underperformed the MSCI EAFE Total Return Index for the six-month period ending September 30, 2009.

On a regional basis, relative performance benefited from stock selection and an overweight position in Europe, particularly in the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Sweden and Norway. These positives were offset, however, by underperforming holdings from the United Kingdom, France and Austria.

In Asia, the Fund's continued overweight position in Japan added value, while overweight exposure to South Korea also contributed to returns. However, holdings in China, Taiwan and the Philippines detracted from returns.

In other markets, the Fund benefited from overweight exposure to Brazil, but overweight exposure to Australia and overweight exposure to Israel detracted from returns.

On a sector basis, notable contributors included security selection in the industrials and energy sectors and overweight positions and security selection in the utilities and consumer staples sectors. At the same time, the Fund's overweight exposure to the telecommunication services sector and its overweight exposure to the financials sector hampered performance.

Recent Developments

(based on information as of October 23, 2009)

Global equities responded to data showing early signs of economic recovery. This response had a positive influence on Fund returns.

International equity markets generally posted positive returns during the period. The upswings were supported by several key indicators and events, including easing credit markets, notable equity issues and improving consumer confidence. Still, it is important to note global economic activity remains well below the robust levels it reached before the financial crises of 2008 and early 2009.

The portfolio management team believes that with returns from fixed-income safe havens disappointing amidst the rally, investors are slowly coming off the sidelines.

Looking ahead, the portfolio management team will continue to apply its disciplined, bottom-up stock picking strategy, identifying key undervalued opportunities created by recent market activity.

<sup>1</sup> These calculations are prescribed by securities regulations and are not intended to be a reconciliation between opening and closing net assets per share. This information is derived from the Fund's unaudited interim financial statements and audited annual financial statements. Effective after the close of business on September 30, 2008, the financial year-end of the Fund changed from September 30 to March 31. The Fund's year-end for tax reporting purposes is unaffected by this change.

<sup>2</sup> The net assets per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for Fund pricing purposes. This difference is due to the requirements of generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), including CICA Handbook Section 3855, and may result in a different valuation of securities held by the Fund in accordance with GAAP than the market value used to determine net asset value of the Fund for the purchase and redemption of the Fund's shares ("pricing NAV"). The impact of the adoption of this accounting policy for valuation of securities on the net assets per share determined in accordance with GAAP as of October 1, 2006 was (0.02) for all series. The pricing NAV per share at the end of the period is disclosed in Ratios and Supplemental Data.

<sup>3</sup> Net asset value and dividends are based on the actual number of shares outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding over the financial period. In the period a series is established, the financial information is provided from the date of inception to the end of the period.

<sup>4</sup> Dividends were paid in cash, reinvested in additional shares of the Fund, or both.

<sup>5</sup> Management expense ratio (MER) is based on total expenses, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, except as noted. In the period a series is established, the management expense ratio is annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period.

Certain expenses that are non-recurring and/or otherwise uncertain as to their future timing and amount have not been annualized.

<sup>7</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's Portfolio Advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Costs incurred to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, are excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The Fund pays Investors Group a management fee. The management fee paid by each series is calculated as a percentage of the net asset value of the series, as of the close of business on each business day (see Related Party Transactions for rates payable by each series). Management fees were used in part to pay costs incurred in providing investment advisory and management services, and distribution-related services including the cost of financial planning services, consultant commissions and bonuses, marketing and other Fund promotional activities and educational conferences.

For the six-month period ended September 30, 2009, on average approximately 54% of the total management fee revenues received from all Investors Group Funds was attributable to investment advisory and management services. The balance of these fees was used to fund the payment of distribution-related services.

For this Fund, investment advisory and management services represented approximately 48%, and distribution-related services represented approximately 52%, of the management fees paid for the six-month period ended September 30, 2009. This may vary by series depending upon the assets invested in each series.

Past Performance

It is important to remember that past performance doesn't necessarily indicate future performance. The returns presented below:

- assume that all of the dividends are reinvested into the Fund;
- do not include sales charges, income taxes, or optional expenses that reduce returns;
- show performance based on Canadian dollar returns; and
- show performance for the six-month period ended September 30, 2009 and for each of the past 10 financial years, or since the series started.

Financial years are as follows:

- 2003 to 2008 – up to 12 months ended September 30

Inception dates of the series within the past 10½ financial years are:

- Series A, October 24, 2002
- Series B, October 24, 2002

Performance during these periods may have been impacted by the following events:

- In July 2003, the annual management fee of the Fund decreased by 0.25% to 2.05%.
- During some performance measurement periods certain fees or expenses may have been waived or absorbed by the Manager. There is no assurance that fees will be waived in the future.
- Effective October 1, 2007, the annual management fee of the Fund decreased by 0.05% to 2.00%.
- In October 2007, the Fund began to pay an administration fee. In exchange, the Manager began to pay certain operating costs and expenses that had been paid by the Fund.
